FOREIGN NEWS.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The conference at Gastien were to confirm the agreement between Austria and Prussia on some important principles of policy. The details of the agreement were written down on both sides, and the two drafts compared and adjusted. They are therefore in the nature of a treaty, but not of a formal treaty.

The functionaries whose services would have been necessary in the drawing of a formal treaty were not present. Thus the secret of the actual terms is better kept. The statement of policy made by the Vienna Cabinet in December last, created a situation between Austria and Prussia which called for a more accurate definition of their relations than could be secured by the exchange of diplomatic notes. The Gastien conference enabled the two Chancellors, by means of confidential conversations, to reach an understanding exactly how the interests of the two powers could be realized to their mutual advantage and how their good understanding might be utilized in dealing against other powers.

The Roumanian railway difficulty has thus received a satisfactory solution in the interest of general peace, and this is regarded as a happy augury for the application of similar joint action in future difficulties.

The "league for maintaining peace" means was against any power that can be provoked to disturb the peace. Russia knowing and understanding this, makes vast preparations for war.

Second, That we favor the lowest taxation that will maintain an economical administration of the State government.

Third, That we will maintain a liberal system of free public schools and secure equal advantages to all the youth of the state irrespective of race, color or previous condition.

Fourth, That we endorse the republican administration of the State of Mississippi and that in the approaching campaign this fall, recognizing His Excellency, Governor James L. Alcorn as our standard bearer, we pledge our united and earnest support in defending the principles of the Republican party and in bearing its standard on to an assured and glorious victory.

Fifth, That having secured the blessing of universal suffrage we will continue our efforts as a party in this State to secure the speedy adoption of universal amnesty.

Lieut. Governor Powers was appointed chairman of the State executive committee.

Governor Alcorn made a speech of three hours reviewing his administration during the past two years and defending himself against the charges of the public printer for plundering the public Treasury. CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 24.—The Bess has announced the breaking out of a revolution in Oaxaca against the State government, and that Diaz is in the field with 100 men. If true, this is alarmingly significant as presaging a general revolution. Insufficient riots have occurred at various localities. In a riot against Protestants at Morelia, seven persons were killed. Copies of an agrarian law are scattered all over the country, inciting discontent among the ignorant.

A preparatory junta of members of Congress takes place on the 1st proximo. The permanent session commences September 10th. The election of Juarez is more doubtful than ever. Money and official positions are freely offered to Congressmen for votes. Congress will act independently of the vote of the people.

Damage by Storm.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—A dispatch from Port Jervis, New York, 20th says:—The storms of the past few days are now being felt in damages by the flood. The Delaware river is many feet above the high water mark and is still rising rapidly. At this place there is a $300,000 suspension bridge being constructed across the Delaware. A long and expensive coffer dam has just been completed and an improved steam pump with a boiler and engine placed in it to proceed with the work of laying the middle pier. The dam is entirely submerged and the machinery nearly so. If the river continues rising a few hours longer the whole structure will be swept away. At Millford, Pa., the hotel of S. D. Vessel Sunk and Loss of Life.

She reports that on the night of the 25th of August, about 11 o'clock, the saloon being full of passengers, the cry of "hard a port" was heard. The Java's engines stopped, and then came a crash that shook the vessel from end to end. Those who rushed on deck saw one half of the vessel on one side and the other half on the other side on the quarter. Boats were got out at once, and after searching carefully about, they saved one man, from whom it was learned that the vessel ran down by the Norwegian bark Annita, from Portsmouth to Quebec, with twelve hands on board eleven of whom went down with the bark. It was for some time a matter of doubt as to whether the Java had not been injured, but she escaped with the loss of her topmast and some fifty feet of canvas.
